

SUNDAY,
OCTOBER 16, 1955

THE JERUSALEM POST

PRICE: 100 PRUTA
VOL. XXXI. No. 8324

THE LAND OF THE BOOK
Books for research, collection & souvenirs. Antique and modern maps and views. A unique selection.
The Universitas-Booksellers
8 Princess Mary Ave., Jerusalem, Tel. 4000.

Marginal Column

By AL ALTMAN

NOBODY can believe that the Japanese Right-Wing Socialists, in joining their Left-Wing comrades in political marriage to form the Japanese Socialist Party, will hand over all the keys to the cupboard in the new house. The Left-Wing spent no doubt haggled hard and demanded a high price for its dowry when the contract was being drawn up. And a valuable dowry it was. In the national elections in February of this year, the number of seats held by the Left increased from 74 to 90, while the Right managed to bring only six more seats, from 61 to 67, under its control. In the prefectoral assembly elections in April, the Left-Wing captured 260 seats to the 185 of the Right. The Left's influence was at its height when the Left-Wing used to shaper up its price was its close relationship with the post-war General Council of Trade Unions (Bohyo, for short), the leader of which is a member of the Left.

THE new party will control 156 of the 467 members of the House of Representatives. This number, just one more than a third of the chamber, makes the Socialist Party the second largest in the Lower House. Together with the four seats of the Farmer-Labour Party, the political ally of the Socialists, and the two of the Communists, the radicals now have 20 per cent of the seats and can effectively block any conservative-sponsored move to amend the Constitution that would allow Japan to re-arm, one of the main issues of the last elections and opposed by the four left parties. The potential power generated by the new party is made conceivable by French Moroccan leaders, who fear that he will work for the return of the Sultan. They have objected all along to the formation of the Council.

The Throne Council was expected to meet tomorrow or Monday to begin immediate consultations on the formation of a Government composed of all Moroccan tendencies.

Moroccan Nationalists Assure Jews of Equality

By MAURICE CARR,
Jewish Post Correspondent

PARIS, Saturday (Reuter). — A few days after attending the Kol Nidre service here in the Great Synagogue, the Moroccan nationalist leaders, Pasha Si Bekkai, Chairman-deputy of the Moroccan Regency Council, and Ben Siliman, Prime Minister designate, were at their own request received by Baron Guy de Rothschild, President of the French Jewish Central Consistory, and by the Chief Rabbi of France, Jacob Kaplan.

The two nationalist leaders, who were accompanied by members of the entourage of Prime Minister Edgar Faure, stayed an hour, spontaneously offering specific assurances that the Jews in the new Morocco will enjoy all the civil rights. They also dwelt at length on their determination to create the first truly democratic, modern State in the Arab world.

Battle of Ballots in U.N. Assembly

NEW YORK, Saturday (Reuter). — The U.S. and the Soviet bloc fought a 100-bulletin battle on the ballot in the U.N. Assembly here yesterday to decide whether Communist or non-Communist nation should get a vacant Security Council seat.

Neither emerged as victor, and after six inconclusive ballots a decision was adjourned until next week.

The battle was over the country which should occupy one of the three seats being vacated by non-permanent members in the Security Council at the beginning of next January. The outgoing countries are Brazil, New Zealand and Turkey.

Two of the seats to fill the first ballot yesterday. They were Cuba, which got 53 votes, and Australia — 42.

However, six indecisive ballots for the third seat were held before the Council adjourned till Tuesday.

At the beginning, the Soviet Union backed Poland. The U.S. supported the Philippines throughout. After four ballots, in which both countries fell short of the two-thirds majority required — in this case 38 votes

— the Communists stepped in.

THE new Socialist match, too, is not free of family squabbles among its leaders. The factionalism that plagues Socialist parties the world over is reinforced by the cliqueism that is part of the fabric of Japanese society. The majority of the Socialist leaders are acting in pre-war parties. They are predominantly older men in sharp contrast to Asia's other Socialist parties, particularly in Burma and Indonesia. Seventy per cent of the Right-Wing leadership and 60 per cent of the Left are over 60. One-third of the Right and one-sixth of the Left-Wing chiefs have been identified with factions born when the first Labour-Farmer Party split three ways in December, 1952, and were captured by the Communists after only 10 months of life. The new and younger members that have come into the party since the end of the Second World War are for the most part not followers of the veterans whom they considered had compromised their principles during the pre-war and war periods, and who were purged by the Occupation along with hundreds of conservative leaders. One of the most important channels of the party since the end of the war is the party leadership — leaders in their thirties and forties — from the labour unions of the Bohyo federation. So close are the ties between the Bohyo and the Left-Wing that the Right-Wing leaders have, in the view of some observers, become the main administrators of new labour organisations and are concerned about finding replacements for themselves.

THE honeymoon of the young couple will soon begin and the neighbours will be eager for any sign that points to how they are adjusting to each other and which of the two is to get the upper hand.

Jerusalem, October 16.

WANTED

FOR THE MIFALEY YAM HAMELACH LTD.

Experienced Surveyor

Only experienced candidates need apply.

enclosing curriculum vitae, to :

MIFALEY YAM HAMELACH LTD.
P.O.B. 78.

Johnston Hopeful For Water Accord

ROME, Saturday (Reuter). — Mr. Eric Johnston, President Eisenhower's special envoy to the Middle East, said here tonight that he thought "there were great hopes of an accord between the Arab States and Israel" over the project to share the waters of the River Jordan.

Mr. Johnston told a press conference that this was his first public appraisal of the plan's future that he had made since the beginning of his two-month visit to the Middle East, which ended in Jerusalem yesterday.

He said that he left the Middle East without the slightest doubt that both sides now recognise the plan as the only logical and equitable approach to the problem of developing a river system which belongs in some part to four sovereign states.

These states, the Lebanon, Syria, Jordan and Israel, have made it clear to me that the technical and engineering details of the plan, including a division of the water, are the possibility of carrying out only part of the plan, that relating to the Litani River in the Lebanon and the Yarmuk in Jordan. Jordan felt that the American offer should be accepted as soon as possible to avert the blow that would be received from the news of talk of peace is idle."

Syria opposed the plan in principle as being only an attempt to help Israel. The Lebanon was interested in the possibility of a "Zionist conspiracy" which is rooted in the U.S. but has some support in Britain and France."

Mr. Sann talked with Col. Abdul Nasser for two-and-a-half hours at the Premier's residence and said that the colonel doubted that the "Post" would print his comments because he thinks that American Jews do dominate the country's press, radio and television that Arab opinion has no chance against Israel.

Abdul Nasser told Mr. Sann that he had made his arms deal with Czechoslovakia for tanks, fighter planes and other military items because a proposal had fallen through when it was found that the Egyptian could not pay in cash. The Czechs are buying cotton, rice and other Egyptian produce in payment.

The Premier, with 10 others, had signed a proposed bill which would allow newspapers to bring proof before the courts of the truth of criticism of official wrongdoing.

The expelled former Ministers, Mr. E. H. Ustundag and Mr. F. L. Karaoenoglu were founder members of the Democratic Party. Mr. Karaoenoglu and others have been planning to form a new political party to fight for a more democratic press. Recent laws forbid newspapers to criticize Government members.

Turkish Democrats Expel 9 Members on Press Issue

ISTANBUL, Saturday (Reuter). — The disciplinary committee of the Turkish Democratic Party has expelled nine of its members in the National Assembly — including two former Cabinet Ministers — on the eve of the Democratic's national convention.

The Deputy with 10 others, had signed a proposed bill which would allow newspapers to bring proof before the courts of the truth of criticism of official wrongdoing.

The expelled former Ministers, Mr. E. H. Ustundag and Mr. F. L. Karaoenoglu were founder members of the Democratic Party. Mr. Karaoenoglu and others have been planning to form a new political party to fight for a more democratic press. Recent laws forbid newspapers to criticize Government members.

USSR Calls Meeting Of U.N. Disarmament Body

NEW YORK, Saturday (Reuter). — The Soviet Union surprised U.N. delegations last night by asking for a meeting of the 13-member Disarmament Commission.

The Soviet Union made its request to Mr. Selim Sarper of Turkey, this month's Chairman of the Commission. It asked that the Commission should meet to consider the report of the five-power Disarmament Subcommission which has been meeting since August 20 in New York and to submit its own report to the General Assembly.

Mr. Johnston was unable to say when he would return now when he would return not what form future talks would take.

Mapai to Name Ministers Today

By SHAYA SHAPIRO
Jerusalem Post Reporter

TEL AVIV, Saturday. — The Mapai Central Committee is meeting here tomorrow without Mr. David Ben-Gurion to discuss the coalition agreement and to appoint the Ministers who will represent the party in the Cabinet.

Armoured cars equipped with loud-speakers blared out a speech by the War Minister and Commander-in-Chief, Major General Abdul Hakim Amer, in which he said Egypt wants peace and has no aggressive intentions. Armed forces maintaining a vigilant watch on the frontiers protect a nation and prove worthy of its confidence."

Premier Abdul Nasser contributed the whole of his October salary, £250, to the Fund. All members of his Cabinet followed suit.

According to the Washington correspondent of the Cairo daily, "Al Abram," Secretary of State Dulles has decided that the U.S. will not take any definite steps at this time to try to counteract the Egyptian demand for the return of the disputed Suez Canal.

This "wait and see" policy adopted after the return of Assistant Secretary of State George Allen from his Cairo visit does not mean that the American Government is not interested in the Hizbullah Convention.

However, it does mean, the correspondent continues, that there is no present intention to supply arms to Israel to counteract any aggression by Egypt.

It also means that Mr. Dulles has rejected all suggestions that the U.S. take such punitive measures against Egypt as cutting off American economic aid or dumping U.S. cotton to depress the world market.

Former President Truman said in New York on Friday that an arms race in the Middle East could lead to a Third World War.

He sincerely hope that the Middle Eastern situation can be worked out in a satisfactory manner. There is no reason why it should not be," he said.

In London, yesterday, leaders of the Board of Deputies of British Jews, including Robert Turton, Foreign Under-Secretary, that Egypt's decision to buy arms from Czechoslovakia constituted a "threat to the security of Israel."

Speaking at the annual dinner of the Anglo-Egyptian Society in London, yesterday, Mr. Turton said he believed, however, Anglo-Egyptian friendship to be secure and unalterable.

Meanwhile, members of the crew are preparing the site for the tests and keeping the machinery in order, as well as supervising the swarms of spectators.

Yesterday, speaking at the season's first luncheon of the Industrial and Commercial Club here, Dr. Emanuel Gil-Av, of the Weizmann Institute, confirmed that the oil discovered today by the Geological Survey of the Hula Valley Committee, Hebron, said that Mr. Byrd's "appearance" probably has failed to bring Israel-Arab peace, that he was a failure as a diplomat.

Chinese shore batteries yesterday shelled an Israeli island, one of the Matan group of the Province of Fukien, for the third time this week, the For-

Nasser Rejects Compromise, Sees Jewry as Enemy

NEW YORK, Saturday (UP).

— The Egyptian Premier, Abdulla Nasser, had said that he is fighting not Israel alone, but "international Jewry" and "the wealth of the Jews." He made the statement in an interview on Thursday with Mr. Paul Sann, executive editor of the "New York Post," which was prominently placed in the newspaper yesterday.

"He says he cannot see a single point of compromise, however small, between the Arab and the Jews," Mr. Sann wrote. "He concedes that Arab loathing for the Jews is so great that any talk of peace is idle."

Abdul Nasser, according to his interviewer, sees his mission as "the salvation of the Arab world" and the "Herald Tribune" in front page feature stories from Washington have opened up what appears to be an officially inspired campaign to explain the State Department's intention to keep arms from Israel on the grounds that Israel is planning a preventive war against Egypt.

Not a single word of these fears is attributed to the State Department by direct quotation, and the Israel Embassy has issued a statement that the "allied representations" are not in line with the conversations between officials of the Department of State and Israeli representatives during the past few weeks.

Meanwhile, in Washington, State Department sources expressed concern today lest Israel resume war on the Enot Ya'akov Bridge project following Arab opposition to the Johnston Plan for regional war cooperation. The Americans fear that a blow to the bridge, even in Israeli territory, could result in war.

Most Dangerous

The flow of Czechoslovakian arms to Egypt, however, is an even greater threat and Secretary Dulles is known to regard it as one of the most dangerous world events since World War II.

Mr. George V. Allen, Assistant Secretary of State for Near Eastern Affairs, indicated in an address this week that the likelihood of an Egyptian attack on Israel has been increased by current developments, though Department officials had previously said that no damage could be inflicted on Israel in an Arab invasion of Israel.

"Of one thing we must rest assured: The policy of firm friendship for Israel, clearly enunciated by President Eisenhower, remains intact," he said.

Mr. Dulles pointed out, the advantages that would accrue from a security treaty such as President Eisenhower is willing to recommend." Reporting on his recent visit to Israel, he warned that a constant threat of war, however, would "hinder" the progress of labour and progress."

"Of one thing we must rest assured: The policy of firm friendship for Israel, clearly enunciated by President Eisenhower, remains intact," he said.

New York's Governor, Mr. Averell Harriman, who has also recently returned from Israel, told the 500 guests that "it is high time that the Government of Israel took steps to make it clear to the Arab nations that Israel is a going concern and one that is here to stay."

The Israeli Ambassador, Mr. Abba Eban, was honoured at the function because his "distinguished leadership and skilful diplomacy in advancing the historic cause of Israel... have served as a rare inspiration."

Cairo Opens Armament Week

"Armenians Week" opened in Cairo yesterday with tanks rumbling through the streets and jet aircraft whistling overhead while soldiers in the streets collected donations for Egypt's arms fund.

Pakistan Wants U.S. To Join Baghdad Pact

WASHINGTON, Saturday. — Ambassador-designate Mohammad Ali of Pakistan expressed the hope yesterday that the U.S. will join the Baghdad pact in the near future.

Radio, stage and film stars in uniform helped National Guardsmen with white tin collection boxes to take pictures from people in the crowded squares and streets.

Armoured cars equipped with loud-speakers blared out a speech by the War Minister and Commander-in-Chief, Major General Abdul Hakim Amer, in which he said Egypt wants peace and has no aggressive intentions.

Mr. Ali said he was aware which two countries had been meeting since August 20 in New York and to submit its own report to the General Assembly.

According to the Washington correspondent of the Cairo daily, "Al Abram," Secretary of State Dulles has decided that the U.S. will not take any definite steps at this time to try to counteract the Egyptian demand for the return of the Suez Canal.

This "wait and see" policy adopted after the return of Assistant Secretary of State George Allen from his Cairo visit does not mean that the American Government is not interested in the Hizbullah Convention.

However, it does mean, the correspondent continues, that there is no present intention to supply arms to Israel to counteract any aggression by Egypt.

It also means that Mr. Dulles has rejected all suggestions that the U.S. take such punitive measures against Egypt as cutting off American economic aid or dumping U.S. cotton to depress the world market.

Former President Truman said in New York on Friday that an arms race in the Middle East could lead to a Third World War.

He sincerely hope that the Middle Eastern situation can be worked out in a satisfactory manner. There is no reason why it should not be," he said.

In London, yesterday, leaders of the Board of Deputies of British Jews, including Robert Turton, Foreign Under-Secretary, that Egypt's decision to buy arms from Czechoslovakia constituted a "threat to the security of Israel."

Speaking at the annual dinner of the Anglo-Egyptian Society in London, yesterday, Mr. Turton said he believed, however, Anglo-Egyptian friendship to be secure and unalterable.

Meanwhile, members of the crew are preparing the site for the tests and keeping the machinery in order, as well as supervising the swarms of spectators.

Yesterday, speaking at the season's first luncheon of the Industrial and Commercial Club here, Dr. Emanuel Gil-Av, of the Weizmann Institute, confirmed that the oil discovered today by the Geological Survey of the Hula Valley Committee, Hebron, said that Mr. Byrd's "appearance" probably has failed to bring Israel-Arab peace, that he was a failure as a diplomat.

Chinese shore batteries yesterday shelled an Israeli island, one of the Matan group of the Province of Fukien, for the third time this week, the For-

Dulles More Favourable To Security Pact with Israel

Adds Concept of Urgency

By JESSE ZEL LURIE, Jerusalem Post Correspondent
NEW YORK, Saturday. — Secretary of State Dulles' message to the Bond Drive dinner here on Thursday night advances the American position towards a security pact with Israel in three ways.

Firstly, the treaty proposal is placed in the context of current developments and in contradiction to the arms race, adding the concept of urgency. Secondly, this is the third time — following the Secretary's U.N. speech and his press conference — that the treaty has been discussed without mentioning boundaries or changes. Thirdly, new words are introduced in phrases whose very word is usually avoided by the State Department. "Treaty or treaties" mentions for the first time the possibility of one treaty sufficing if more than one is impossible, and the mention of "demarcation lines" is the first time the possibility of an armistice line is mentioned.

Mr. Simon Soboloff, Solicitor General, told the guests that he had been permitted to state that Mr. Dulles was convinced that the proposed Armistice Lines could be allayed, not by means of an arms race.

"This aim could be achieved only by means of collective arrangements which the Middle East were advocated by the State Department in a message to a Bond Drive dinner here yesterday.

Hadassah
WELCOMES YOU
TO ISRAEL

Call: JERUSALEM 4661
TEL AVIV 23338
HAIFA 4878

We arrange one-day trips
to see our work in Israel
HADASSAH CLUB for OVERSEAS VISITORS

Social & Personal

The Prime Minister and Mrs. Sharrett yesterday entertained to lunch Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Montefiore, the Israeli Minister to Japan, Mr. J. L. Linton, Mrs. Fern May, Mr. Walter Eytan, Mrs. V. Harmer and Mr. and Mrs. A. Edan.

Dr. Joseph Burg, Minister of Posts, received Mr. Jacob Almouz, Deputy of the West German Bundestag on Friday.

ARRIVALS: Mr. Alexander S. Semochkin, Second Secretary of the Russian Embassy, from home leave; Major Robert Renaud and Paul Koenig, American production experts, for a three-week visit on behalf of U.S.O.M. to advise on hospital needs; Mr. and Mrs. M. Krebs, active members of the Zionist Movement in Montreal, Canada, for the marriage of their daughter, Gila.

DEPARTURES: Mr. Yacov Meridor, M.M., for Johannesburg on behalf of the Anglo-Ashkenazi Jewish E. Kitter, of St. Louis, U.S., accompanied by the Rev. Cornelius Hoeler, the Rt. Rev. Monsignor Ch. Donohue and the Rev. Timothy Champsoux, after a three-day visit as part of a tour of the area; Mr. George Fleisch, for Montevideo, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. Tania Saks, treasurer of the Australian WIZO, for Australia, after a seven-month stay in Israel; Mrs. Toni Hauser-Zissler, Chairman of the World WIZO fund-raising department, for Paris; Mr. D. Israel, Assistant General Manager of the Bank Leumi, for the U.S. and Europe on business.

Mr. Gershon Agron, Mayor of Jerusalem, and Mr. M. Perush, Deputy Mayor, on Friday received a group of tourists from England led by Mr. N. R. Marshall and accompanied by Mr. Theodore Thon.

A reception to celebrate the first successful Israeli film was held at the residence of Mr. Yekutiel Fiedermann, in Haifa, prominent oil prospecting investor, on Thursday. Among those present were Major and Mrs. K. Khouri, the Israeli Ambassador and Mrs. Herman, the U.S. Consul and Mrs. Coyne, as well as leading Haifa industrialists and bankers.

An exhibition of 2,000 years of Chinese painting was opened last night at the Erezart Museum by Dr. M. Avidor, Director-General of the Ministry of Education and Culture. The exhibition was organized by UNESCO.

A large crowd saw Noel Coward's "thrust comedy," "Private Lives," performed by the Israel Touring Club Play-Reading Group at the club's premises in Jerusalem last night. Those taking part were: Madame Malka Ronen, Adi Feffermann, Mira Pilpou, and Meir, Ruth Beecher and Sami Behar.

Vronskey and Babin will give a "public music lesson" under the auspices of the Music Academy in Jerusalem, on Wednesday, October 19 at 9:30 a.m. sharp, at the Bet Hahalutz, Jaffa. All musicians are welcome.

Faitlovitch, Expert
On Falashas, Dead

TEL AVIV, Saturday. — Dr. Jacques Faitlovitch, explorer and enlightener of the work among the Falasha Jews of Ethiopia, died today at Bellinson Hospital. The funeral will leave at 3 p.m. tomorrow from the cemetery on the road to Number 10 Eshkol Street, here.

Born in 1881 in Lida, Poland, he was a student of Oriental languages which he studied with Joseph Hailvy, investigator of conditions among the Falashas. In order to study the group, Faitlovitch undertook three explorations to Ethiopia, the first by Edmund Rothchild in 1905 and 1906 and two by the American Pro-Falasha Committee in 1908 and 1913.

To spread education among the Falashas, he established a central school in Addis Ababa in 1923 and several travelling schools for Falasha communities in a number of countries, including the U.S.

NEW MA'BARA OPENING
IN BEERSHEBA

BEERSHEBA, Saturday. — The new workers will open here next Tuesday, when the first 30 families move into some of the 150 wooden huts which have already been constructed. They are to be followed by a further 30 families before the end of the month. Meanwhile, another 800 huts are being built, and it is planned that the workers will take 100 North African families every month.

In all, 200 new families will be accommodated in this town in the current fiscal year and another 1,000 in the vicinity.

At Dimona, 20 more huts have been prepared to receive newcomers. Several Lydda and Ramla residents have applied to the Jewish Agency for permission to live in the new Beersheba village, but their applications have been rejected as the future township is reserved for "newcomers only."

SIGHTSEEING LTD
TOURS
DRIVE YOURSELF CARS

HAIFA 4 SAFAD ST.
TEL 02404
TEL-AVIV 51 HANANON ST.
TEL 282-282

LAW REPORT

The Jerusalem Post
October 16, 1955

In the Supreme Court Sitting
Court of Civil Appeal
Before the Deputy President
(Justice Chaskin), Justices Goitein and Landau.

Eliyahu and Arye Meyersdorf, Appellants; v. Alfred Bridorf, Respondent. (C.A.169/55).

Landlord Cannot Take Key Money for Flat he Occupies

The Supreme Court has ruled in favor of the judgment of the Tel Aviv District Court delivered on June 9, 1953 (C.C. 1007/53).

The appellants are the owners of a flat which they themselves occupied. Having decided to move to a new flat, they let their flat to a tenant, and received, besides the rent, the sum of IL500 as key money. The respondent sued the appellants in the Tel Aviv District Court for the return of the key money and won his case. Judge Kassan held that the payment had been contrary to the terms of the Rent Restriction Ordinance.

The question, therefore, was whether the premium had been paid in consideration of receiving a lease of tenancy and was an addition to the rent, in which case the provisions of section 7 would apply. The District Court had held that the IL500 had been additional to the rent and had been paid in consideration of receiving the tenancy of the flat in question — a decision with which the Supreme Court could find no fault. The respondent was therefore entitled to the return of his money.

The first appellant only (it having been accepted by the court that she was not her husband) was the rightful owner of the flat and was ordered to recover her deduction from any rent payable to the landlord.

Mr. Michael appeared for the appellants; Mr. Menashe for the respondent.

Judgment given on October 9, 1955.

The judgment of the Supreme Court was delivered by Justice

Goitein who considered Mr. Segev's argument that section 7 did not apply to the present case since the landlords in this case were at one and the same time tenants of their own flat and the key money intended to cover the cost of acquiring another flat, it being customary in Israel for a tenant who leaves his flat to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the words "A person shall be entitled to receive compensation for so doing — the compensation not being regarded as a premium or other like sum in addition to the rent — in dismissing this contention, Justice Goitein pointed out that section 7 does not differentiate between a landlord who occupies his own flat and one who does not. On the contrary, the section begins with the

THE WEATHER

OUTLOOK: Clear, but warm over all regions and interior.

|               |    |    |    |    |
|---------------|----|----|----|----|
| MT. Carmel    | 21 | 20 | 0  | 10 |
| Tiberias      | 45 | 32 | 25 | 35 |
| Haifa Port    | 47 | 31 | 25 | 35 |
| Nahariya      | 45 | 31 | 25 | 35 |
| Tel Aviv Port | 75 | 19 | 25 | 35 |
| Jerusalem     | 45 | 17 | 30 | 35 |
| Lydda Airport | 45 | 15 | 30 | 35 |
| Haifa         | 24 | 15 | 30 | 35 |

(*) At 2 p.m. (C) Maximum yesterday
D. Maximum temp. expected today

A TURKISH ship that brought nearly 4,000 tons of wheat was unloaded in 35 hours by the Tivat ship in Haifa Port. Manually, the operation would have taken 180 hours.

1,240 IMMIGRANTS from North Africa are due to disembark from the Haifa Argon and a dozen in Haifa Port early this morning. The Argon arrived yesterday afternoon and the Arta is due this morning. The immigrants will be sent to agricultural settlements and development areas.

SELLING a loaf of bread containing a nail, a baker, Yaakov Weiss, 48, of the Nahalat Ahim Quarter in Jerusalem, was fined IL30 and was bound over in the sum of IL300 to be of good behaviour for two years by Magistrate Y. Barak on Friday.

THE BEERSHEBA Working Women's Council have started their "Yad Le'olim" campaign.

Agricultural Council Elects Officers

Jerusalem Post Reporter REHOVOT, Saturday. — The Agricultural Workers Union elected a 15-man Council and an 11-man Central Committee at a meeting yesterday morning at the end of a one-week convention.

The Central Committee has 47 Mapai members, 26 Mapam, 13 Adut Ha'Avoda, four Oved Hatzion, two Communists and one Oved Dati.

The Council is composed of 88 Mapai, 25 Mapam, 24 Adut Ha'Avoda, eight Oved Hatzion, four Communists and two Oved Dati. The full list of resolutions adopted by the convention fills 85 typewritten pages. After all motions for amendments by minority parties had been rejected, Mr. Avraham Harari, the veteran head of the Settlement Department, said that the convention had been "difficult but worthwhile."

Three suggestions moved by Mapam, after the agenda had been cleared, were rejected by 211 votes to 71. They demanded that the Union join the leftist International Union of Arab Cultural Workers; admit Arab workers to the Union; and support the world peace movement.

All moves were rejected as they had not been discussed previously by the convention's Steering Committee.

Five U.S. Senators Here for Overnight

Five U.S. Senators, all members of the Senate Appropriations Committee, crossed the lines into Israel yesterday afternoon at Mandelbaum Gate. Accompanied by their wives, the group will meet the Defense Minister and whisked away to Tel Aviv, where they attended a reception at the home of the U.S. Ambassador, Mr. Edward E. Lawson, and had dinner at the house of Mr. Ival White, Counsellor to the Embassy.

The Senators are Harley M. Kilgore, West Virginia; John L. McClellan, Arkansas; John Stennis, Mississippi; Everett Saltonstall, Massachusetts, and Dennis Chavez, New Mexico. They spent the night at the Accor Hotel and are leaving this morning on a U.S. Army plane from Lydda Airport.

Puzzling Fire in Haifa Port

HAIFA, Saturday. — A fire in the Port yesterday morning that pursued many Haifa residents was seen in many parts of the town. However, the blaze was only a controlled fire to burn flotsam and salvage worth IL1. The flotsam consisted of parts of old ships, which had been offered for sale by tender to the Controller of Flotsam. Only one boat was sold at IL1.

Unable to get rid of the rest, the Controller sold the 100 to the Port Authority for IL1. Yesterday the goods were burned in order to clear the space which they were taking up in the Harbour. The Harbour fire engine stood by.

RENOVATION SCHOOL NAMED AFTER SMILANSKY

REHOVOT, Saturday. — The Municipal school in Rehovot, Yaakov Smilansky, was yesterday named after Moshe Smilansky, the writer, who died two years ago. Mr. Yitzhak Katz, the Mayor, unveiled a commemorative plaque on the building, which is near the Writers House. After the ceremony, which was attended by many old-timers and friends, a memorial service was held at the cemetery, where Mr. Joseph Saphir, M.M., former Minister of Transport, spoke.

FALLING ROCK KILLS TWO MEN

SAPAD, Saturday. — Zevi Finkestein, of Safad, and Mordechai Sagal, of Nahariya, were killed in the Old City yesterday, when the roof of the house which they were inspecting fell on them. They were on the balcony at the time, and died two hours later in Porish Hospital, Tiberias.

The trial of Reuven ("Romek") Greenberg was concluded in Jerusalem on Friday, in summing up for the defense. Mr. Yosef Narki, who claimed that the writer had been stayed by the police, who bore a grudge against "Romek" for his activity in the Stern Group and in the defense of Greenwald in the Greenwald-Kastner case.

Judah Greenberg announced that he will hand down his verdict as soon as possible.

We wish to thank all our friends and acquaintances for their expressions of sympathy in our bereavement.

Irene, Moshe and Daphne Sonnenfeld and family.

THE JERUSALEM POST

Petah Tikva Hapoel Division 'A' Champs

Jerusalem Post Bureau

TEL AVIV, Saturday. — The soccer championship of the Division "A" was won today for the first time in its history by Petah Tikva Hapoel with a one goal victory over the Tel Aviv Hapoel. The only goal was scored after 49 minutes by Kaufman who nicely judged a corner kick and headed the ball into the back of the net. The victory gave the Petah Tikva team a total of 40 points for the season, two points ahead of their nearest rivals, Tel Aviv Maccabi, who also won their game today against Ramat Gan Hapoel.

The decisive score of 4-1.

Other Division "A" results:

|                  |    |    |   |    |
|------------------|----|----|---|----|
| Tel Aviv Maccabi | 21 | 18 | 0 | 10 |
| Haifa Maccabi    | 21 | 18 | 0 | 10 |
| Rehovot Maccabi  | 21 | 18 | 0 | 10 |
| Tel Aviv Hapoel  | 21 | 18 | 0 | 10 |
| Haifa Hapoel     | 21 | 18 | 0 | 10 |
| Rehovot Hapoel   | 21 | 18 | 0 | 10 |
| Haifa Hapoel     | 21 | 18 | 0 | 10 |
| Rehovot Hapoel   | 21 | 18 | 0 | 10 |

Final Standings In Division 'A'

|                    | Points |
|--------------------|--------|
| Petah Tikva Hapoel | 40     |
| Tel Aviv Maccabi   | 38     |
| Haifa Maccabi      | 38     |
| Rehovot Maccabi    | 38     |
| Tel Aviv Hapoel    | 38     |
| Haifa Hapoel       | 38     |
| Rehovot Hapoel     | 38     |
| Haifa Hapoel       | 38     |
| Rehovot Hapoel     | 38     |

New Nat'l Swimming Records Set in Haifa

Jerusalem Post Bureau

HAIFA, Saturday. — Yesterday's swimming at the Bar-Gelim pool in which the final contest for the national swimming championship was held, saw the women's team of Tel Aviv Maccabi and Kiryat Haim Hapoel, leading Division "B" and the men's team of Haifa Hapoel and Hatzafon Hapoel, had to play next season. Jerusalem Hapoel and Kfar Shabtai Hapoel will have to play test games against Jaffa Maccabi and Kiryat Haim Hapoel, leading Division "B" and the men's team of Tel Aviv Maccabi and Hatzafon Hapoel, had to play next season.

Yoram Mandelbaum, of Givat Haim Hapoel, won the 1,500 metre crawl in 21.79 min. improving on Reuben Schnapper's record time by 2.8 seconds. Of that distance, he swam the first 500 metres in 12:14.5 min. breaking the record of 11:27.7 min. also held by Schnapper, his club-mate.

Brit Maccabim Atid's team of girl swimmers clocked 6:22.5 min. in a mixed 4X100 relay race. Yosef Ra'anani retained his three more national diving crown.

Outside the championship contest, B.M.A.'s girls made an attempt the 4X100 metre relay crawl record of 5:34.1 minutes held by the Gusti Zevulun Hapoel girls, and improved it to 5:26.5 min.

Haifa Maccabi won the national water polo league after narrowly beating Haifa Hapoel in a 5-point to 4. At half-time Hapoel led by 3 goals to 2.

150 Swimmers Cross Lake Kinneret

TIBERIAS, Saturday. — One hundred and fifty swimmers aged from 10 to 18 from all over the country, participated in the non-competitive Lake Kinneret contest this morning.

All the swimmers, boys and girls, including one boy who is paralysed in the legs, finished the four-kilometre course from Kibbutz On to Bet Yerah. The paralysed was among the last to reach Bet Yerah.

The semi-finalists who will compete in the final competition cup next weekend are Mrs. H. Behan (Israel), who beat Mr. G. S. Zymans, himself a well-known sportsman, who on behalf of those gathered there, sent wishes for the rapid recovery of the Minister of Defence, Mr. David Ben-Gurion.

As a result of the games played yesterday and today, the semi-finals have been reached in both the women's and men's singles. The semi-final and final will be played next Friday and Saturday at the same place, beginning on Wednesday.

The two parties, separated since October, 1953, announced dissolution in statements at separate national conventions in Tokyo on Thursday.

The new unified party, which has been formed by the Acting Mayor, Mr. S. Zymans, himself a well-known sportsman, who on behalf of those gathered there, sent wishes for the rapid recovery of the Minister of Defence, Mr. David Ben-Gurion.

The two parties, separated since October, 1953, announced dissolution in statements at separate national conventions in Tokyo on Thursday.

The new unified party, which has been formed by the Acting Mayor, Mr. S. Zymans, himself a well-known sportsman, who on behalf of those gathered there, sent wishes for the rapid recovery of the Minister of Defence, Mr. David Ben-Gurion.

The two parties, separated since October, 1953, announced dissolution in statements at separate national conventions in Tokyo on Thursday.

The new unified party, which has been formed by the Acting Mayor, Mr. S. Zymans, himself a well-known sportsman, who on behalf of those gathered there, sent wishes for the rapid recovery of the Minister of Defence, Mr. David Ben-Gurion.

The two parties, separated since October, 1953, announced dissolution in statements at separate national conventions in Tokyo on Thursday.

The new unified party, which has been formed by the Acting Mayor, Mr. S. Zymans, himself a well-known sportsman, who on behalf of those gathered there, sent wishes for the rapid recovery of the Minister of Defence, Mr. David Ben-Gurion.

The two parties, separated since October, 1953, announced dissolution in statements at separate national conventions in Tokyo on Thursday.

The new unified party, which has been formed by the Acting Mayor, Mr. S. Zymans, himself a well-known sportsman, who on behalf of those gathered there, sent wishes for the rapid recovery of the Minister of Defence, Mr. David Ben-Gurion.

The two parties, separated since October, 1953, announced dissolution in statements at separate national conventions in Tokyo on Thursday.

The new unified party, which has been formed by the Acting Mayor, Mr. S. Zymans, himself a well-known sportsman, who on behalf of those gathered there, sent wishes for the rapid recovery of the Minister of Defence, Mr. David Ben-Gurion.

The two parties, separated since October, 1953, announced dissolution in statements at separate national conventions in Tokyo on Thursday.

The new unified party, which has been formed by the Acting Mayor, Mr. S. Zymans, himself a well-known sportsman, who on behalf of those gathered there, sent wishes for the rapid recovery of the Minister of Defence, Mr. David Ben-Gurion.

The two parties, separated since October, 1953, announced dissolution in statements at separate national conventions in Tokyo on Thursday.

The new unified party, which has been formed by the Acting Mayor, Mr. S. Zymans, himself a well-known sportsman, who on behalf of those gathered there, sent wishes for the rapid recovery of the Minister of Defence, Mr. David Ben-Gurion.

The two parties, separated since October, 1953, announced dissolution in statements at separate national conventions in Tokyo on Thursday.

The new unified party, which has been formed by the Acting Mayor, Mr. S. Zymans, himself a well-known sportsman, who on behalf of those gathered there, sent wishes for the rapid recovery of the Minister of Defence, Mr. David Ben-Gurion.

The two parties, separated since October, 1953, announced dissolution in statements at separate national conventions in Tokyo on Thursday.

The new unified party, which has been formed by the Acting Mayor, Mr. S. Zymans, himself a well-known sportsman, who on behalf of those gathered there, sent wishes for the rapid recovery of the Minister of Defence, Mr. David Ben-Gurion.

The two parties, separated since October, 1953, announced dissolution in statements at separate national conventions in Tokyo on Thursday.

The new unified party, which has been formed by the Acting Mayor, Mr. S. Zymans, himself a well-known sportsman, who on behalf of those gathered there, sent wishes for the rapid recovery of the Minister of Defence, Mr. David Ben-Gurion.

The two parties, separated since October, 1953, announced dissolution in statements at separate national conventions in Tokyo on Thursday.

The new unified party, which has been formed by the Acting Mayor, Mr. S. Zymans, himself a well-known sportsman, who on behalf of those gathered there, sent wishes for the rapid recovery of the Minister of Defence, Mr. David Ben-Gurion.

The two parties, separated since October, 1953, announced dissolution in statements at separate national conventions in Tokyo on Thursday.

The new unified party, which has been formed by the Acting Mayor, Mr. S. Zymans, himself a well-known sportsman, who on behalf of those gathered there, sent wishes for the rapid recovery of the Minister of Defence, Mr. David Ben-Gurion.

The two parties, separated since October, 1953, announced dissolution in statements at separate national conventions in Tokyo on Thursday.

The new unified party, which has been formed by the Acting Mayor, Mr. S. Zymans, himself a well-known sportsman, who on behalf of those gathered there, sent wishes for the rapid recovery of the Minister of Defence, Mr. David Ben-Gurion.

The two parties, separated since October, 1953, announced dissolution in statements at separate national conventions in Tokyo on Thursday.

The new unified party, which has been formed by the Acting Mayor, Mr. S. Zymans, himself a well-known sportsman, who on behalf of those gathered there, sent wishes for the rapid recovery of the Minister of Defence, Mr. David Ben-Gurion.

The two parties, separated since October, 1953, announced dissolution in statements at separate national conventions in Tokyo on Thursday.

The new unified party, which has been formed by the Acting Mayor, Mr. S. Zymans, himself a well-known sportsman, who on behalf of those gathered there, sent wishes for the rapid recovery of the Minister of Defence, Mr. David Ben-Gurion.

The two parties, separated since October, 1953, announced dissolution in statements at separate national conventions in Tokyo on Thursday.

The new unified party, which has been formed by the Acting Mayor, Mr. S. Zymans, himself a well-known sportsman, who on behalf of those gathered there, sent wishes for the rapid recovery of the Minister of Defence, Mr. David Ben-Gurion.

The two parties, separated since October, 1953, announced dissolution in statements at separate national conventions in Tokyo on Thursday.

The new unified party, which has been formed by the Acting Mayor, Mr. S. Zymans, himself a well-known sportsman, who on behalf of those gathered there, sent wishes for the rapid recovery of the Minister of Defence, Mr. David Ben-Gurion.

The two parties, separated since October, 1953, announced dissolution in statements at separate national conventions in Tokyo on Thursday.

The new unified party, which has been formed by the Acting Mayor, Mr. S. Zymans, himself a well-known sportsman, who on behalf of those gathered there, sent wishes for the rapid recovery of the Minister of Defence, Mr. David Ben-Gurion.

The two parties, separated since October, 1953, announced dissolution in statements at separate national conventions in Tokyo on Thursday.

The new unified party, which has been formed by the Acting Mayor, Mr. S. Zymans, himself a well-known sportsman, who on behalf of those gathered there, sent wishes for the rapid recovery of the Minister of Defence, Mr. David Ben-Gurion.

The two parties, separated since October, 1953, announced dissolution in statements at separate national conventions in Tokyo on Thursday.

The new unified party, which has been formed by the Acting Mayor, Mr. S. Zymans, himself a well-known sportsman, who on behalf of those gathered there, sent wishes for the rapid recovery of the Minister of Defence, Mr. David Ben-Gurion.

The two parties, separated since October,

